

Plesk 10.1.1 release adds ColdFusion 9 support

Posted At : 31 March 2011 20:41 | Posted By : Shaun McCran
Related Categories: Coldfusion

It seems as though the newest version of the server management software 'Plesk' v 10.1.1 is now officially ColdFusion 9 compatible.

Previously Plesk could only integrate with ColdFusion 8 as it caused instability issues with ColdFusion 9.

There isn't much about this in the release notes, just a simple statement.

ColdFusion 9 support. A new version of the popular site developing tool is available

The full release notes article is here: <http://download1.parallels.com/Plesk/PP10/10.1.1/release-notes/parallels-plesk-panel-10.1.1-for-windows-based-os.html>

I'm hoping it works well as I've just commissioned a new server running both these software versions.