I recently re-installed Eclipse (then CFEclipse, Aptana etc etc..). Much to my horror I was happily coding away on my new installed version, and my code hints had disappeared! CTRL+SPACE just didn't work anymore!

i couldn't find anywhere in the preferences to re-enable this (ala DreamWeaver) but I did discover that if I right clicked on the project folder, and selected "Add/Remove CFE Nature" it re-enabled the code hints!

Eclipse was already in the CfEclipse perspective, and it was a cf project, so I'm not sure why this made any difference. Handy tho.
